Board of Directors

In December 2023, the Rotonda West Association held its annual election which resulted in bringing back Karen Harvey and David Kelly to the board. This, however, left Mrs. Harvey's appointed position open, resulting in six members seated on the board.

At the January 25th Board of Directors meeting, Mr. Peter Traverso was brought back to the board to fill the still vacant seventh seat.

Board President Andy Van Scyoc officially welcomed Peter Traverso stating that Mr. Traverso is no stranger to Rotonda West and that he had previously served on the board. He brings some 22 years of prior board experience with him.

According to the Association By-laws, Cape Cave (also referred to as the "developer") is entitled to appoint one member who need not be a Lot/Tract Owner.

THE BUDGET & FINANCE COMMITTEE

Article and Photo by: Nadine Clough

This is the first in a series of articles featured in West Ways that will focus on a different Rotonda West Association (RWA) committee each month.

The Budget & Finance Committee is one of the seven standing committees of the Rotonda West Association. It is this committee's job to assist the Treasurer of the Board of Directors, and the RWA Manager with budgetary and financial matters.

Rotonda West is fortunate to have these volunteers, most with strong financial backgrounds, overseeing our association's money.

Attending or zooming the Budget & Finance Committee meetings, will give you a clearer picture of how our HOA funds are handled. It is enlightening to learn how funds are

COMMITTEE MEMBERS

FLORIDA'S SNAKES: SIX WITH VENOM, BUT THERE'S ONE WITHOUT THAT'S A VERY LARGE PROBLEM

By: Connie Smith

There are six venomous species of snakes in Florida, but only one, giant, non-venomous, non-native species – the python – has the wild-life population of the Florida Everglades on its knees. The main species of concern by wildlife experts is the Burmese Python but a second species of concern in southern Florida is the African Rock Python.

On January 9, Charlotte County Senior Land Management Specialist Jason Thompson discussed pythons and other snakes in Southwest Florida and Rotonda West to a crowd of 55 persons.

A snake enthusiast, who even brought along his passive-natured pet red tailed boa named Doc (native to Colombia), Thompson said he believes only four of Florida's venomous snakes live in Southern Florida. The venomous snakes are:

- Dusky Pygmy Rattlesnake
- Eastern Diamondback Rattlesnake
- Coral Snake
- Cottonmouth
- Timber Rattlesnake
- Copperhead

Snakes of all kinds are extremely common in people's yards in Florida and most folks, have walked, unaware, within a few feet of a snake. The preponderance of snakes, even the venomous kind, are beneficial, should be treated with respect and left alone.

Thompson conceded that there have been "periodic" reports of pythons in Rotonda West and Charlotte County for several years that he has been inclined to attribute to pets that have either escaped captivity or have gotten too big for their owners to handle and been released into the wild. Six months ago, however, four juvenile pythons were discovered locally, three of them with umbilical scarring. "It's still possible these came from a breeder," he said, "but it's also possible they were from a loose female python."

The bad news is that under ideal conditions, a female python, in its lifetime, can give birth to 100 snakes a year over a lifespan of 15 years. Last July, a record Burmese Python 19 feet long, weighing 200 pounds was caught in the Big Cypress National Preserve near Naples. Nature relies on a delicate balance of predator and prey. At the giant size of the record Burmese Python, there are almost no predators to protect nature's balance.

Charlotte County Senior Land Management Specialist Jason Thompson introduces Rotonda residents to his pet red-tailed boa Doc, during a talk about pythons and snakes, January 9th.

The Colombia native snake is a smaller species that appears very similar to the Burmese Python and the African Rock Python that are of great ecological concern to federal, state, and local officials in southern Florida.

Jason Thompson of Charlotte County government speaks informally with Rotonda residents about pythons and snakes following his talk on the subject at the Rotonda Community Center.

While Thompson's red-tailed boa looks like a Burmese Python, Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (www.myfwc.com) describes the python in the following way:

The python's markings are tan in color with dark blotches like the markings on a giraffe. Their head is pyramid-shaped with a dark, arrowhead-shaped wedge extending toward the nose. They are semi-aquatic and are often found near or in water. In Florida, they have been found to prey upon a variety of mammals, birds, reptiles, and even alligators.

"Want to avoid a python problem at your house? Don't leave your garage door open. Keep your bushes trimmed up. Don't leave food out for stray cats; be careful what you do because you will occasionally attract a stray guest," he cautioned.

He explained that snakes are ectothermic – they obtain body heat from their environment – and on a very hot day, to get out of the heat, an open garage door will provide an attractive place to get out of the sun. Additionally, boxes, shelves and vehicles can be great places for small animals to hide to further attract snakes seeking something to eat. Similarly, bushes and abundant foliage create hiding places. Compost piles next to the house or food left out for stray animals can also attract unwanted pests. "Don't create a place for them," Thompson said.

Pythons are not protected in Florida, except by anti-cruelty laws and can be humanely killed on private property with landowner permission. The species can be captured and humanely killed year-round without a permit or hunting license. During an informal session following his presentation, Thompson was asked about a recent Rotonda West Facebook post wherein a resident came upon a purported python that was extended across the lane of road ahead. A picture was taken and posted, but the resident allowed the snake to get away. Some responding residents suggested the snake should have been run over. Thompson said running over a snake is not a humane way for it to die. He said snakes have elongated organs and internal damage created by vehicle tires would cause horrible pain to the creature.

According to Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission, there is an ethical and legal obligation to ensure nonnative reptiles are killed in a humane manner. A two-step process is recommended by the American Veterinary Medical Association to prevent suffering and to destroy the animal's brain.

Thompson cautioned residents against taking it upon themselves to euthanize pythons. He believes the practice of euthanasia should be left to professionals, as anyone attempting to euthanize any species should be qualified to be 100% certain of its identification prior to taking any lethal action.

VERTICAL OYSTER GARDENS

Contributed by: Lemon Bay Conservancy

The Lemon Bay Watch Team of Lemon Bay Conservancy is pursuing their goal of improving the water quality of Lemon Bay through the use of vertical oyster gardens.

The Lemon Bay Watch “Oyster Ambassadors” will be on site at WATERWAYS Paddlesports, 501 W. Dearborn Street, Englewood, FL. every Thursday, beginning January 18, 2024 through April, 25, 2024, 10 a.m.—1:00 p.m. to provide oyster information, answer questions, and provide free oyster strands to residents who have registered through the site.

Vertical oyster gardens, also known as VOGs, are strings of recycled oyster shells collected from local Englewood restaurants. When suspended in tidal waters, VOGs provide the ideal habitat for young larval oysters to grow into adult oysters capable of filtering up to 50 gallons of water per day.

The vertical oyster garden movement has spread throughout Southwest Florida and has had a positive ecological impact. Studies have shown that not only do they contribute to water filtration and promote cleaner water for healthy seagrass; they provide habitat for a variety of marine animals and fish. The Lemon Bay Watch team is proud to be a part of this water quality initiative that will help to protect and restore the waters of Lemon Bay.

If you would like to be part of this important effort to improve the quality of water around your home, register today by scanning the QR code below or by following this link:

DOUBLE PLEASURE— DANCE PARTY WITH JAY SMITH

Article and Photos by: Pattie Mihalik

Jay Smith entertains
at Rotonda
Community Center

It was double the pleasure, double the fun at the January dance party. Residents and guests were treated to Jay Smith's extraordinary musical ability as they danced the night away. Sponsored by the RWA Outreach Committee, chairman Deb Orchard and MC Maureen McDowell worked to bring the highly sought after musician to Rotonda.

"It's easy to see why Jay has such a big following," said Maureen. "You don't have to be a dancer to enjoy a Jay Smith performance." Indeed, his stories are as interesting as his unique musical arrangements. A child prodigy, he was entertaining audiences from the age of six. His elementary school principal sometimes took him out of school and drove him to perform at community events. "After my parents bought me my first guitar, I wouldn't part with it. I carried it everywhere and even slept with it," Jay recalls. Before long, he was making TV appearances and being hailed as a left-handed guitar sensation.

Known as "Southpaw Jay Smith", he has a big u-tube following with more than 6 million views for his virtuoso arrangement of Dueling Banjos. The Rotonda audience went wild with applause when he played it, the same reaction that always occurs at a Jay Smith concert. With over 1,100 songs in his repertoire, no two Jay Smith concerts are the same. "But every audience will usually request my signature songs such as Dueling Banjos," he said. Indeed, before he got around to playing it at the Rotonda West Community Center, some were going up to request it.

The community center proved to be the perfect place for the dance party. The smooth flooring is conducive to dancing and it's a comfortable, uncrowded entertainment venue. Great entertainment like Jay Smith and comfortable surroundings all add up the making it one of the best entertainment tickets in town.

Best yet, it's free for Rotonda West residents.

There's always something worthwhile on the calendar. Don't miss out. Watch for the monthly West Ways newsletter and mark your calendar for your favorite future activities.

There's plenty of good stuff headed your way.

Trivia with Tim

By Deb Orchard

On Behalf of the Community Outreach Committee

Trivia with Tim, what a fun evening. If you weren't there you missed also our own Joe Harris, Rotonda West's IT person, who brought an adapter to connect Tim's computer to our monitors, much to the cheers of the crowd. You also missed an evening of groans and cheers as the answers were revealed. Our topic for the night was "A Look Back at 2023". You'd think that would be so easy, since it was just January 4th. Well, I can tell you, I was certainly surprised at how little I actually recalled about the 2023. We had 96 players and I believe each one of us had fun reviewing and reliving 2023. Try this sample of the questions:

Literature: Which celebrities wrote these books released in 2023?

1. Spare
2. The Woman in Me
3. Worthy
4. Love, Pamela

Sports: Who was the 2023 Champion?

1. Men's World Cup Soccer
2. Stanley Cup Hockey
3. Women's US Open Tennis

Movies:

1. Year's top grossing movie
2. What movie was released in theaters on December 25?

February 1st starting at 6:30 is our next evening of Trivia with Tim. Gather your team, or play as a single. This is also your opportunity to have a game night with your friends, only without all the work. All you need is to bring your own your drinks and snacks, we'll supply the game and the space. February's topic is sure to surprise us all. Maybe, something to do with Valentine's Day? We will see.

How'd you do? Get them all right? How about this Final Question - Henry Kissinger and Norman Lear were both born in 1923. Both lived to be 100 and died in 2023. Who is the only other famous person born in 1923 who died in 2023?

ANSWERS:

SHRED-IT AND SHARE-IT DAY!

Filling the Pantry

On Saturday, January 27th, the popular “Shred-it and Share-it Day” was held at Broadmoor Park. A steady stream of 145 vehicles came through dropping off non-perishable goods for the St. David’s Jubilee Center Pantry, and having papers shredded at the Shred-It truck. Money was also donated to the Jubilee Center in the amount of $90.

Thank you to the hard-working crew who ran the event.

ASK THE PHARMACIST

Insurance Tips

Dr. Sarah Swiatek Pharm.D. R.Ph.

Greetings Rotonda Residents!

Hoping everyone survived the holiday season, and is starting off the New Year healthy and happy. My regrets for not sharing an article last month, as the craze of the holiday season caught the best of me.

With a new year almost always comes NEW INSURANCE. Not for everyone, but arguably I would say the majority of us. Every season, I see the same challenges and pitfalls at the pharmacy because of the change of policies or coverage. Here are some tips and pieces of information to guide you for a more smooth transition and ensure you're prepared for your coverage changes:

- Always carry your new insurance card. And carry ALL of your CURRENT cards. Discard or file away cards from the previous year. Even if your plan "is the same", there may be important codes or information on the card that are needed by your provider.
- Preview and understand your coverage. What does your policy pay for? How much comes out of your pocket? Do you have a premium or deductible? Please call your insurance plan or speak with your agent to determine this information. Providers give health care services, they do not dictate the terms of your coverage. Prices and copays are not set by the pharmacy or provider. We serve thousands of patients. We do not have knowledge of, nor access to, the information that pertains to your policy.
- Your coverage can change at any time. A service or medication that was covered last year may not be covered this year. It may not be covered tomorrow. These decisions are dictated by your policy. Your doctor can try to file an appeal with insurance on your behalf called a Prior Authorization. The pharmacy is not involved in the process other than submitting a claim to see if your medicine is covered.
- If you've misplaced your card or don't have it, and your new information is needed, see if the pharmacy has the means to run a search for your coverage using the last 4 of your Social Security Number. It doesn't always work (especially if you have multiple addresses or last names), but it's a way we can try to help you as a last resort.

Hopefully these tips will serve you as we move along through season.

I invite you to email me at SRxSwi@gmail.com with any thoughts or ideas for upcoming articles and events. Our next discussion group will be held on March 6th, and the topic (chosen by one of our residents) will focus upon insomnia and sleep hygiene. I hope you will join me, bring a friend, and a self-care donation item. Watch for upcoming "Ask the Pharmacist" Talks in the months to come. Dates and times will be shared through our Constant Contact, West Ways Newsletter, and Facebook. Thank you and be well!

Residents Bring Their Appetites to Rotonda Meet and Greet

By Connie Smith

A crowd of residents mingled and their appetites did justice to tables of salads, main dishes and desserts, at the monthly Meet and Greet, January 23 at the Rotonda Community Center.

Chairperson Donna Stogsdill welcomed the crowd, exhorted everyone to purchase 50-50 tickets from Nancy Hanson (6 for $5), and introduced Rotonda Board Member Sam Besase who asked everyone in the room to introduce themselves. Within the space of two hours, very little food was left and almost everyone had met someone new.

The Rotonda Meet and Greet – for residents “within the Circle” is the 4th Tuesday of each month, at the Community Center, from 5 to 7 p.m. (bring a covered dish and a beverage – table service is provided). A second event, for any resident within any Rotonda property (Lakes, Sands, Heights, etc.) and guests, is the 1st Wednesday of every month in Rotonda Community Park on Parade Circle (BYOB and a snack).

There is a monthly lunch (location TBA), on the 3rd Wednesday of the month at 11:30 a.m., for any resident of any Rotonda property (Lakes, Sands, Heights, etc.) and guests.

ANNUAL OPEN HOUSE AT LEMON CREEK WILDFLOWER PRESERVE

Submitted by: Ann Weaver
A Member of the Lemon Bay Conservancy and a Volunteer in the Butterfly Habitat

On Saturday, February 24, 2024, Lemon Bay Conservancy will host its annual Open House at Lemon Creek Wildflower Preserve. The free event runs from 8:00 am to 1:30 pm, and features guided walks on an array of nature topics including birds, butterflies, plants, trees, fish and water quality. The Preserve is located at 3120 Gasparilla Pines Boulevard, Englewood, Florida 34224.

The Preserve is an 80 acre former golf course with numerous ponds, purchased by Lemon Bay Conservancy in 2010 with the goal of providing a refuge for wildlife, and opportunities for environmental education and scientific research. Efforts to improve the quality of water entering Lemon Bay are ongoing at the Preserve, as well as providing habitat for shorebirds and juvenile tarpon. An “Early Bird” guided bird walk begins at 8:00 am, and hourly walks on various topics will continue all day. Local environmental groups will man information exhibits and offer demonstrations of nature projects such as oyster gardening during the day.

For more information, visit LemonBayConservancy.org, email lbconservancy@comcast.net or call 941-830-8922. Lemon Bay Conservancy is a non-profit organization managed by volunteers and funded by donations, memberships and grants.

CHARLOTTE COUNTY NEWS BRIEFS

CHARLOTTE COUNTY RECREATION CENTERS STILL RECOVERING FROM HURRICANE IAN

On September 28, 2022 Hurricane Ian took aim at Southwest Florida and Charlotte County causing damage to homes, businesses, and trees. Ian also impacted our local recreational centers which are still in the process of rebuilding.

Tringali Center

TRINGALI CENTER

The once busy complex sits empty and closed next to the Englewood Charlotte Library. The center was used for months by FEMA as they helped people whose homes were damaged by the storm. FEMA left on May 13, 2023 leaving the inside of the center closed to the public. Outside facilities such as the playground, pickleball and tennis courts, and basketball court are open and available to use.

Ann & Chuck Dever Regional Park

Some of the facilities at the park remain non-operational since Hurricane Ian. These include the inside of the $9 million Ann & Chuck Dever Recreation Center, which had opened in 2019. The Recreation Center was used by the American Red Cross as a shelter for people left homeless by Ian. The shelter closed on December 15, 2022, and the recreation center remains closed. Outside facilities such as the trails, dog park and multi-purpose fields are available to use.

Englewood Sports Complex

ENGLEWOOD SPORTS COMPLEX

Cole Washko, Sarasota County Public Information officer said of the complex, "In the months following Hurricane Ian, the complex suffered extensive damage, but most of the damages have been corrected." Still to come include pickleball court lighting, additional grass parking, new shade structures, and sidewalks. The complex was used as a staging area for Florida Power & Light, and was a collection point for vegetative debris after the hurricane.

February 2024

It looks like February will be a very busy month for the GFWC Rotonda West Woman's Club. We finished January with a successful Trivia night where the monies raised go to the Scholarship Fund and a local environmental charity. The winning team who donated their prize money back to the club was the "Just the Facts".

Coming up in February is another fundraiser, Designer Bag Bingo. The event is bingo with a twist. Instead of cash prizes, the winners get fabulous brand-new designer handbags from Coach, Michael Kor and others. This event is sold out but keep it in mind for next year. We are also looking for business sponsors to help underwrite the costs.

Also in February we will be helping the Englewood Historical Society with the Cracker Fair Lemon Dessert Baking contest. Entry is free! The event is on Saturday, February 10th at Pioneer Plaza on Dearborn Street.

If you are interested in joining GFWC RWWC you are very welcome to attend. Our next General Meeting is Thursday, February 15 at the RWA community center. The social hour begins at 9 am and the business meeting starts promptly at 10 am.

Please go to our website at www.gfwcrotondawest.org for information about upcoming events and who we are and what we do. You can also find us on Facebook at GFWC Rotonda West Woman's Group. We are proud to continue to "Live the Volunteer Spirit" as we begin to celebrate the 50th anniversary of our club.
